SIX STEPS TO SUBDIVIDING LAND

1. A subdivision application and fees must be submitted with a draft copy of the subdivision plat for the Commission's staff to review.
2. The plat review comments will be provided to the surveyor and applicant listing any additions or changes which must be made to the plat before conditional approval will granted.
3. The surveyor then provides the applicant with the subdivision plat on paper copies.
4. The plat must be submitted to the appropriate agencies for signatures. (See Signature Information.)
5. After all the certifications have been signed, the plats should be returned to the Commission for the final review and approval.
6. The Commission retains a paper copy and 2 paper copies are provided to the County Clerk's office for recording.
